

Live On-Site Video Webcast

Live On-Site Video Webcasting is an effective and powerful way to reach out to target audiences with your important message. MultiVu's Webcast Services can help you expand the audience for your event and make your video message widely accessible to the public, media, analysts, institutional investors and individual investors – all by streaming your event live via the Internet.

It's an ideal way to open up annual shareholder meetings, analyst days, CEO or executive presentations, press conferences, internal communications, tradeshow presentations and new product launches to a larger audience.

Video Webcasting from MultiVu gives you a tremendous opportunity to express your message to many potential viewers through unparalleled distribution and your own e-mail marketing. Each Webcast is a custom production - MultiVu™ will provide you with a free consultation and a price quote based on your unique event requirements.
